

Name: Pooja Singh

Ward Number: 10

Phone Number: +91-9876585974

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Irregular water supply.
 - 2. Lack of street lighting in residential areas.
 - 3. Lack of green spaces and parks.
 - 4. Poor waste management system.
 - 5. Waterlogging during monsoons due to poor drainage.
 - 6. Noise pollution from construction and traffic.
- 4. issue affects not just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that

Name: Sneha Reddy

Ward Number: 16

Phone Number: +91-9876596509

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Lack of street lighting in residential areas.
- 2. Waterlogging during monsoons due to poor drainage issue affects not just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.
- 3. Encroachment on public footpaths and roads. This issue affects not just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.

Name: Ravi Mehta

Ward Number: 1

Phone Number: +91-9876561252

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Noise pollution from construction and traffic. This issue affects not just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.
- 2. Encroachment on public footpaths and roads. This affects not just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to

Name: Anita Sharma

Ward Number: 18

Phone Number: +91-9876550420

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Lack of green spaces and parks.
- 2. Garbage dumping in open areas.
- 3. Waterlogging during monsoons due to poor drainage.
- 4. Poor waste management system. This issue affects just a small part of the community but often enters neighboring neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.

Name: Anita Sharma

Ward Number: 17

Phone Number: +91-9876519256

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Overcrowded public transport. This issue affects just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.
- 2. Lack of green spaces and parks. This issue affects just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.
- 3. Lack of street lighting in residential areas. This issue affects just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.
- 4. Encroachment on public footpaths and roads. This issue affects just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.

Name: Ravi Mehta

Ward Number: 11

Phone Number: +91-9876567790

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Lack of street lighting in residential areas. This issue affects not just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.
- 2. Encroachment on public footpaths and roads.

2. Encroachment on public footpaths and roads. This issue affects not just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to

Name: Pooja Singh

Ward Number: 9

Phone Number: +91-9876559577

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Irregular water supply.
- 2. Encroachment on public footpaths and roads.
- 3. Noise pollution from construction and traffic.
- 4. Poor condition of public toilets. This issue affects not just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.

Name: Anita Sharma

Ward Number: 14

Phone Number: +91-9876597825

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Lack of green spaces and parks.
- 2. Waterlogging during monsoons due to poor drainage.
- 3. Poor waste management system.
- Noise pollution from construction and traffic.
- Lack of street lighting in residential areas.
- Encroachment on public footpaths and roads.

Name: Anita Sharma

Ward Number: 16

Phone Number: +91-9876576505

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Encroachment on public footpaths and roads.
- 2. Garbage dumping in open areas.
- 3. Poor condition of public toilets. This issue affects not just a small part of the community but often neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.
- 4. Lack of street lighting in residential areas.

Name: Ravi Mehta

Ward Number: 9

Phone Number: 76543210

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

1. Lack of street lighting in residential areas.
2. Noise pollution from construction and traffic.
3. Waterlogging during monsoons due to poor drainage issue affects not just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.
4. Irregular water supply.

Name: Sneha Reddy

Ward Number: 8

Phone Number: 76543210

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Waterlogging during monsoons due to poor drainage issue affects not just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.
- 2. Encroachment on public footpaths and roads.
- 3. Overcrowded public transport.
- 4. Noise pollution from construction and traffic.

Name: Ravi Mehta

Ward Number: 9

Phone Number: +91-9876524075

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Noise pollution from construction and traffic. This issue affects not just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.
- 2. Lack of green spaces and parks.
- 3. Garbage dumping in open areas. This issue affects just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods.
- 4. Encroachment on public roads and paths.

Name: Amit Trivedi

Ward Number: 10

Phone Number: +91-9876545385

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Waterlogging during monsoons due to poor drainage.
 - 2. Encroachment on public footpaths and roads.
 - 3. Noise pollution from construction and traffic.
 - 4. Air pollution from factories and vehicles.
- 5. Lack of green spaces and parks.
- 6. Inadequate waste management and recycling.
- 7. Poor maintenance of public infrastructure.
- 8. Limited public transport options.
- 9. High cost of housing and real estate.
- 10. Lack of social and community services.

3. Irregular water supply. This issue affects not just a small part of the community but often entire

Name: Anita Sharma

Ward Number: 3

Phone Number: +91-9876519695

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Encroachment on public footpaths and roads. affects not just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to continue with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.

- 2. Noise pollution from construction and traffic.
- 3. Overcrowded public transport.
- 4. Lack of street lighting in residential areas.

Name: Ravi Mehta

Ward Number: 14

Phone Number: +91-9876513077

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Lack of street lighting in residential areas.
- 2. Irregular water supply. This issue affects not only a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.
- 3. Lack of green spaces and parks.
- 4. Poor condition of public toilets.

Name: Anita Sharma

Ward Number: 2

Phone Number: 76543210

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

1. Encroachment on public footpaths and roads.
2. Garbage dumping in open areas.
3. Lack of street lighting in residential areas.
4. Irregular water supply.

Name: Sneha Reddy

Ward Number: 12

Phone Number: +91-9876566538

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Poor waste management system. This issue affects not just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their daily routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.
- 2. Encroachment on public footpaths and roads.

2. Encroachment on public footpaths and roads. This problem affects not just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to

Name: Ravi Mehta

Ward Number: 15

Phone Number: +91-9876555652

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Irregular water supply. This issue affects not just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.
- 2. Noise pollution from construction and traffic.
- 3. Encroachment on public footpaths and roads.

2. Noise pollution from construction and traffic.
3. Encroachment on public footpaths and roads.
affects not just a small part of the community but

Name: Sneha Reddy

Ward Number: 12

Phone Number: +91-9876514396

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Noise pollution from construction and traffic. This issue affects not just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.
- 2. Irregular water supply.
- 3. Lack of street lighting in residential areas. This issue affects not just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.
- 4. Encroachment on public roads and roads.

Name: Sneha Reddy

Ward Number: 1

Phone Number: +91-9876568082

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Encroachment on public footpaths and roads.
- 2. Noise pollution from construction and traffic.
- 1. Waterlogging during monsoons due to poor drainage issue affects not just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.
- 3. Lack of green spaces and parks.
- 4. Poor condition of public toilets.

Name: Karan Verma

Ward Number: 14

Phone Number: +91-9876539048

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Poor waste management system.
- 2. Encroachment on public footpaths and roads.
- 3. Lack of green spaces and parks.
- 4. Poor condition of public toilets.
- 5. Noise pollution from construction and traffic.
- 6. Lack of street lighting in residential areas.

Name: Ravi Mehta

Ward Number: 10

Phone Number: +91-9876542615

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Garbage dumping in open areas. This issue affects just a small part of the community but often enters neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.
- 2. Waterlogging during monsoons due to poor drainage.
- 3. Irregular water supply.
- 4. Overcrowded public transport.

Name: Anita Sharma

Ward Number:

Phone Number: +91-9876546670

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Waterlogging during monsoons due to poor drainage.
- 2. Overcrowded public transport. This issue affects just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.

3. Garbage dumping in open areas. This issue affects just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods.

Name: Anita Sharma

Ward Number: 3

Phone Number: +91-9876560229

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Lack of green spaces and parks.
- 2. Waterlogging during monsoons due to poor drainage.
- 3. Lack of street lighting in residential areas.
- Noise pollution from construction and traffic.
- Lack of street lighting in residential areas.
- Encroachment on public footpaths and roads.

Name: Amit Trivedi

Ward Number: 2

Phone Number: +91-9876519197

Common Problems in Indian Cities:

- 1. Encroachment on public footpaths and roads.
- 2. Noise pollution from construction and traffic.
- 3. Overcrowded public transport. This issue affects just a small part of the community but often entire neighborhoods. People are unable to carry on with their routine, and it disrupts public services and schools. The government should focus on this as a top priority and include local community participation in finding long-term solutions that are sustainable and practical in implementation.

4. Waterlogging during monsoons due to poor drainage.